

SUSTAINABILITY POLICY

ECONOMIC ISSUES

Contribution to the UK economy

The company provides direct employment for people in the UK (and one person in China).

The company supplies products to our customers at the right price and quality at the right time, thus enabling our customers to compete within their own markets.

Investment for the future

The Directors are always looking at re-investing in the company.

SOCIAL ISSUES

Commitment to health and safety

The company has a health and safety policy in place which is reviewed annually. The company continually provides and maintains standards of safe and healthy working conditions. Employees and their representatives are consulted and involved where ever possible in the continuing interest of health and safety matters.

Training and development of the workforce

The company is committed to providing a high standard of relevant training for its employees.

Training for company employees mainly takes place in house and is given or authorised by the Quality Director. If any employee's needs cannot be met in house then the relevant training course will be sought and provided.

Involvement with local communities

The company supports local charities and the community.

ENVIRONMENTAL ISSUES

Commitment to the environment

The company is committed to the environmental policy that we have in place. In all our activities, working practices and business relationships, we continuously work towards protecting, conserving and enhancing all aspects of the environment both at local and global levels.

Certification of environmental management systems

The company does not currently hold a certificate for the environmental policy that we have.

Prudent use of natural resources

The company reduces the impact on the environment by suitable minimisation, recycling and reduction schemes. The company is a distributor not a manufacturer of components.

STAKEHOLDER ENGAGEMENT

External partnerships

The company is the market leader, providing the right quality products at the right price at the right time to customers globally.

Customer information provision

The company has a website giving all the relevant information that customers require including technical support.

Transparent reporting

The company has an annual report including accounts which is available internally and externally.
